The Second Pennsylvania Regiment of the Continental Line and the 43rd Regiment of Foot is a non-profit, educational organization created in 1966 to accurately depict both sides of the struggle for America's independence.

The dedicated members of our growing and dynamic group strive to portray the men and women involved in the armies of the American Revolution with fidelity and to bring the past alive at historic sites, commemorations and battle reenactments throughout the region and beyond. One of the oldest and most respected such groups in the world of living history, our organization welcomes anyone seeking to enjoy their love of America's heritage in a unique, fulfilling and very enjoyable way.

EXPERIENCE the life of the Revolutionary War soldier. You'll get the feel of the past as you participate with authentic equipment and flintlock muskets in battle reenactments filled with thundering volleys, swirling smoke, fife and drum calls and the special excitement only possible in this unique pastime.

On other occasions you'll bring the past to life for the public as the regiment appears at historic sites throughout the region. For those interested, the unit's tents and gear are available for camping in the 18th Century manner at many events. And, you may also have the opportunity to be part of television and motion picture projects, too. Interested in military fife and drum music? Intrigued by serving on an 18th Century field gun crew? We offer those possibilities as well, along with an important role for women as campfollowers in our authentic camp.

LEARN the maneuvers and manual of arms of the British and American fighting men and discover just what all that strange equipment was for. Your knowledge and appreciation of this dynamic period in America's past will expand as you visit museums and historic sites with us. Do you have any skills or knowledge you'd like to share? Let us know. Much of our success has been due to the many talented people who have joined us.

GAIN new friendships with a great group of people and bring an exceptional new dimension to your life that few others get to enjoy! Our members come from all walks of life: teachers, high school and college students, historians, businessmen, law enforcement officers, medical professionals, musicians, craftsmen, technology experts and more. They all share your interest in America's heritage. ★ ★ ★ ★ ★
